Forward

Little did the chroniclers of the middle ages realize, when they were recording the events of their time, that some day their manuscripts would be invaluable. To them, each parchment was just another historical record to be read by those who were ambitious enough to learn to read.

In the publication of this book, it has been our sole aim to record the history of another school year. If we have succeeded in this we are satisfied. Yet if in years to come, this record, like the chronicles of old, may become more than just another history—not because of its superb literary value, but because of the priceless memories related to all the events described—then we shall feel that we have accomplished more than just an ordinary achievement.

Dedication

The medieval monk with his brush and parchment, was succeeded by the scribe and his pen. The professional copyist and his careful script, was supplanted by the typesetter and his crude blocks. The early printer with his ragged type, has been replaced by the monotypist and his perfect leads. Thus the task of recording did not die with any one age, but was carried on by the next with even greater efficiency and achievement.

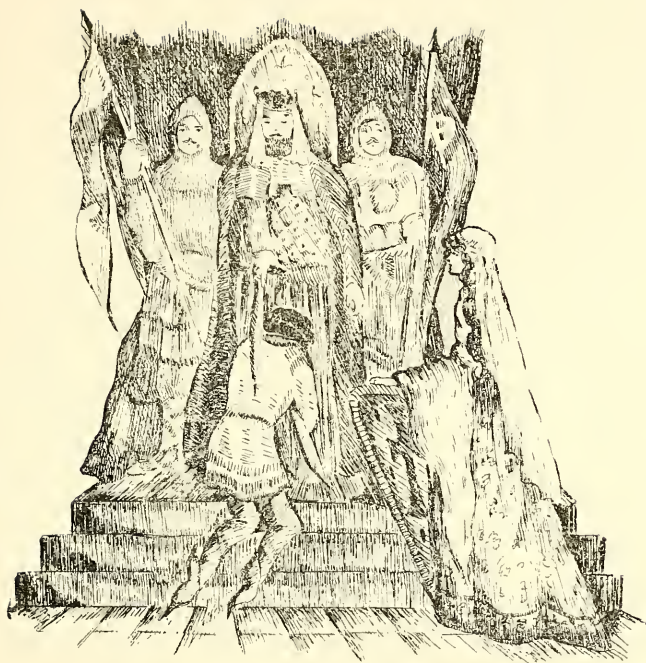

The same is true of any activity of life; a task is never completed by a single group, but is continued by the succeeding one. When we entered high school, we took up the problems and tasks handed down to us by those who had left these halls. We in high school have struggled with these tasks, and like all other groups realize that we cannot complete them but must pass them on, as we receive them—unfinished. It is to that group who will carry on the work which we have left undone, and accomplish even greater things than we have accomplished, that we would dedicate this year book. It is with a challenge to take up our tasks and achieve even more than we have achieved that we dedicate this year book to our younger brothers and sisters.

Board of Commissioners

The members of the New London Board of School Commissioners are; Mrs. F. J. Pfeifer, Dr. J. W. Monsted Sr., Mr. E. C. Jost, Dr. C. D. Hemmy, Mr. J. F. Croak, Mr. A. O. Zerrenner, and Superintendent R. J. McMahon. One commissioner is elected by each of the five wards and the sixth member of the board is elected as commissioner at large. Mrs. Pfeifer holds this position at the present time. The superintendent automatically becomes a member. The term of office for a commissioner is two years. The present board is capable and well informed concerning matters of our school. This seems especially true when we consider that the majority of the commissioners have held office for at least eight years.

The commissioners are the trustees of our school and are in charge of matters concerning the drawing up of the school budget, the hiring of teachers, and all of the more important interests of the school. They hold two meetings each month for discussing these matters. Their work at these meetings is without a doubt being carried out to the people's satisfaction, otherwise there would be a change of faces at the table.

The older members of the board have stayed at the post consistently with hopes of having a new school for New London in the near future. Though this goal has not been reached as soon as expected, it is certain that the conditions of the old building will not have to be tolerated much longer. As a matter of fact, the board has spent much of its time in past meetings in discussing architectural plans for the new one, for which the site has already been purchased by the city. From the above, you can see that these officials have plenty of work to do, and these few words may hardly be said to tell even a small part of their duties. These people certainly deserve the applause of the community, though they are not seen on parade. In most lines of business, you may look for the workers behind the scenes.

Superintendent R. J. McMahon needs no introduction to the people of New London considering the fact that he has held the position as supervisor of our public schools for seven years.

Being students, we are naturally interested in what Mr McMahon's work means to students. Most of us have known him for four years, and some of us have known him for an even longer period. From our contact with him during this time, we believe we have seen him accomplish two objectives:

First—Develop the qualities of each and every student to the maximum degree.

Second—Give every student the opportunity to participate in all activities under the principle of forensics, music, and sports FOR ALL.

It is our belief that when a superintendent has in addition to developing the regular routine to a high standard, opened the way for as many students as possible to participate in as many activities as possible, he has unquestionably succeeded in his work.

Classes

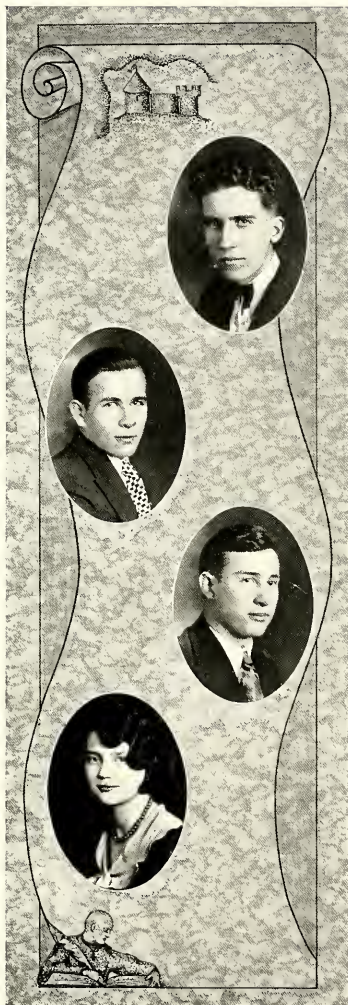

Class of 1930

With the promise that we were to be the first class to be graduated from the new high school, the class of 1930 enrolled as Freshmen in the fall of 1926. Being bona fide members of the senior high school was a new experience for us and it took us almost our entire first year to find ourselves. From the very outset there was one activity, however, in which we were well represented; that activity was music.

William Dayton, the president of our class when we were Freshmen, turned over his executive office to "Windy" Thomas at the start of our second year. One year's experience in the senior high school made a great deal of difference, and in this our Sophomore year we started forth to win. By sending a large number of participants into all of the activities of the school, we finished the year by winning second place in the Spirit Cup contest.

With more determination than ever, we returned to school the following fall. This year the class was piloted by Fred Cochrane. More and more the talent of the class began to appear. Three of our members represented the school in a non-defeat debate program, while two won laurels for their Alma Mater in individual forensic events. More musicians were developed and the band and orchestra was composed of a large number of the members of the class of 1930. Nor did we fall down in the athletic program, for it was the Junior class which won the Inter-class Basketball tournament. As a climax for the year we succeeded in winning the most coveted trophy of the school, the Spirit Cup.

Once more we returned to the halls of the old high school, this time for our last year. Under the leadership of Clair Mulroy as our president, we began to write our last chapter in the history of New London High School. One of the most outstanding achievements of the year was the sponsoring of a lecture—entertainment course for the benefit of the Monday Morning News. We raised $75.00 in this way, an amount which was more than that raised by any other class. As in other years, we again made our contribution to the different activities of the school. Again we sent men out on the gridiron, court, and track. Again we sent debaters and orators to the rostrum to represent the school. Again we furnished the musical organizations with more than our quota of musical talent. Again we attained the height of our ambition and won the School Spirit Cup.

Those we love truly never die,
Though year by year the sad memorial wreath,
A ring and flowers, types of life and death
Are laid upon their graves.

For death the pure life saves,
And life all pure is love; and love can reach
From heaven to earth, and nobler lessons teach
Than those by mortals read.

Junior Class History

Like every class which enters high school, it took us a while to get organized, and our Freshman year was rather uneventful. However, under the guidance of our president, Stanley Ziemer, we managed to survive our fledgling year.

As Sophomores the class of 1931 had one year of experience and this made a great deal of difference in the attitude of the class. More and more of our members were to be found in the different activities of the school, especially in athletics. Monroe Brown served as our executive officer for our second year.

With Wilfred Wiedenbeck as president, the class of 1931 plunged ahead in their Junior year with tremendous strides and gave the Seniors a close run for the Spirit Cup. By winning the Inter-Class Basketball tournament and by sending representatives into the field of debate and oratory and declamatory, the versatility of our class was soon demonstrated. The prospects for next year are especially bright and we are determined to win the Spirit Cup.

Sophomore History

At the outset of our career as a class in high school, we began making definite outstanding contributions to the activities of our Alma Mater. Although we had representatives in all of the activities of the school, our major ability seemed to be in the field of forensics and music. With Watson Reuter as president, we pushed forward, and as Freshmen won second place in the Spirit Cup contest, a rather unusual feat.

As Sophomores we came back with the same talent and sent our representatives into the activities of the school. This year our class was headed by "Lennie" Dernbach. Our greatest venture and outstanding achievement of the year was the carnival which we sponsored for the benefit of the Monday Morning News. We have reason to believe that we have considerable ability in our class, and we feel confident that in our next two years more of our talent will be displayed and developed.

Freshmen History

Our greatest accomplishment during the past year was finding out just what senior high school is all about. And now with one year's experience we feel sure we can come back next year and demonstrate our ability.

With Rosalind Hoier as president, we have accomplished the task of organization. In competition with the other classes we lead in one school activity and we are exceptionally proud of that lead. No other class in school can boast of a Banking record as admirable as ours. With thrift such an important factor in life, we believe that the lead which we have taken in this activity is worthy of special mention.

Junior High School

A. M. ENGEN

Mr. Engen, principal of the Junior High, has been doing wonderful work throughout the past year in preparing the students of the seventh and eighth grades for the more advanced work in High School. Besides the regular course of study there have been numerous opportunities to enter outside activities. When school opened last fall, about twenty boys signed up for Junior High football under the supervision of Mr. Koten. Practice was carried on during the regular season and the boys played some games as preliminaries for high school games. Not to be outdone by the young men of the two grades, the girls organized a Junior High School Girl's Glee Club at the beginning of the year. They also appeared several times during the year for different programs. Mr. Goranson, music director, had charge of the group.

Much interest was shown by the students in the various forensic activities. The thirty-six students who went out for debate were grouped into twelve teams. A series of six contests were held with the teams discussing such subjects as, "Resolved: That there should be ten months of school." "Resolved: That students should take the subjects they like," and "Resolved: That the world should disarm." The other activities were well represented with twenty students out for Declamatory, fifteen for Oratory, and fifteen for Extemporaneous Reading. This work was in charge of A. M. Engen assisted by the other Junior High School teachers. The assembly periods were spent in various types of programs including these contests, other student programs, and talks by various teachers.

Basketball started as soon as the football season was brought to a close. This work was in charge of Mr. Engen, who coached about thirty-five boys, and Miss Driessen, who coached about twenty girls.

During the second semester a Junior High Orchestra was organized. This organization is also under the direction of Mr. Goranson. Practice was held in the Music Barracks on Tuesday and Friday mornings.

The Forensic Association is an old organization in our school, and has grown exceedingly in recent years. In its primitive stage, little interest was shown; but gradually as time advanced, more students showed a desire to join. In the last few years, the Association has increased to twice its former size. At the beginning of each year there is a drive for membership in the Forensic Association. Each class puts forth its supreme effort to secure 100%. This year there was close rivalry between the three higher classes. The Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors succeeded in acquiring 100%. The Freshmen came in close second. This proves to be an exciting time, due to the goal each class is determined to attain.

In the latter part of each year, a meeting is held of all the members of the Forensic Association for the purpose of the election of the following year's officers. These students that are chosen take their office the next year. To be a member of the Association, a student is required to pay twenty-five cents. The receipt which he receives, entitles him to enter all Forensic Contests. This fee is exceedingly small considering all the student receives in return. The Forensic Association was organized for the purpose of financing the Forensic Activities, and has accomplished its object very successfully.

Forensics

H. H. BROCKHAUS

Our achievements in Forensics which we have attained are due to a large extent to our excellent coaching. Mr. Brockhaus has served us through our trials very capably. We appreciate his untiring efforts to assist us. Mr. Brockhaus is a graduate of the North Central College of Illinois. During his College years, he accomplished a great deal in Forensics. He won second in Oratory twice in the State, and also was successful in Extemporaneous Speaking. Besides these, he is a very capable coach.

An extraordinary large number of students participated in the various Forensic tryouts. The problem of selecting the winners was solved by a series of preliminary semi-final, and final tryouts. Sixty students competed in Debate, twenty-five in Oratory, forty in Declamatory, eighty in Extemporaneous Reading, and twelve in Extemporaneous Speaking.

There was great competition this year between the girls and boys in Oratory, which was formerly a boy's contest. Clair Mulroy was awarded first place; Eileen Cary, second. From the 40 students, who participated in the Declamatory tryouts, five were chosen to continue the work which they had started. The judges saw fit to present first place to Hazel Bleck; second place to Ruth Plumb. The students showed a special interest in Extemporaneous Reading. From the 80, who participated, five were chosen to represent the school. Hazel Bleck was given first place, and Eileen Cary, second. Because of the difficulty of Extemporaneous Speaking few students participated in it. Wesley Calef won first place; Clair Mulroy, second.

Conference Debate

Sohrweide, Gorges, Calef, Demming.
Naparalla, Carey, Plumb, Roepke.

From the many who tried out for Debate, 16 people were chosen to compose four debate teams. Eight of these students worked on the Conference question, while the other eight studied the question of the State Association. The Conference question this year was one which created considerable interest because of its local bearing. The question formally stated is, "Resolved: That All Schools in the Northeastern Wisconsin Interscholastic Conference Shall Cease to Participate in State Basketball Tournaments." The Affirmative side of the question was studied by Alice Naparalla, Irvin Demming, Eileen Carey, and William Sohrweide, alternate. Ardell Roepke, Clarence Gorges, Wesley Calef, and Ruth Plumb, alternate, made up the Negative team.

On Friday night, December 6, the New London Negative team traveled to Neenah and met Neenah's Affirmative trio. Although our team showed their ability, the Neenah Affirmative was awarded the decision of 3 to 0 by the judges. On the following Monday our Affirmative team met the Negative Kewaunee team here. Though in previous years we were able to defeat them, this year the decision was reversed, 2 to 1 in favor of Kewaunee.

In a dual debate with Clintonville on December 16, the New London debators shared honors with the Clintonville speakers. In the afternoon the Negative team was defeated by the visiting Affirmative team, and in the evening New London's Affirmative won a 2 to 1 decision over Clintonville's representatives.

State Debate

Gherke, Mulroy, Ziemer, Mulhaney.
Palmer, Zaug, Cochrane,

The question debated by the State Association was different from the Conference question. The Association chose the following problem for discussion, "Resolved: That Installment Buying of Personal Property as Now Practiced in the United States is Both Socially and Economically Undesirable." This question of Installment Buying was not a new question, it had been debated the previous year in the Midwest Intercollegiate Conference and was used for discussion in the Associations of other states. The Affirmative side of this question was upheld by a team composed of Arthur Palmer, Clair Mulroy, and Marjorie Zaug. The Negative team consisted of Alice Ziemer, Esther Gherke, Fred Cochrane, and Helen Mulhaney, alternate.

On Thursday evening, February 6, the Shawano Negative team were our guests. After a clashing debate the judges awarded the decision to Shawano by a 2 to 1 vote. On the following evening New London's Affirmative team traveled to Waupaca to discuss the question with their representatives. Although they addressed only a handful audience, and thus found it difficult to get very enthusiastic, they were awarded a 2 to 1 decision over Waupaca.

Again we were fortunate in securing Neenah for our opponent. On February 13, our Affirmative team braved a raging snow storm and traveled to Neenah and debated Neenah's Negative team. The result of this debate was 2 to 1 in favor of Neenah. The following evening the Red and White Negative team were the hosts of Oconto Falls. With a packed house to speak to, our team showed more enthusiasm than they had all season and won a decisive victory over our visitors.

Conference Contests

Carey, Mulroy, Plumb, Baldwin, Bleck.

Monday afternoon, April 14, our Conference contestants traveled to De Pere, to compete with De Pere, Shawano, and Menasha. Again Shawano swamped our entries, and we only succeeded in obtaining two places. Eileen Carey was awarded third place in Oratory, and Hazel Bleck third place in Extemporaneous Reading. Our other entries were Hazel Bleck, Oratory; Clair Mulroy, Extemporaneous Reading; Ruth Plumb and Luella Baldwin, Declamatory; and Clair Mulroy and Eileen Carey, Extemporaneous Speaking. Again Shawano put up difficult competition which was hard to defeat. First place in each of the four contests was awarded to a Shawano entry. They won second in Oratory and Extemporaneous Speaking. They also secured the third place in Declamatory and Extemporaneous Reading. Menasha was fortunate in receiving second place in Declamatory and Extemporaneous Reading. De Pere was not fortunate, in that they did not secure any places. Eileen Carey's Oration was called "The Delusion of Equality". Hazel Bleck spoke on "The King Can Do No Wrong"; and the name of Luella Baldwin's selection was "Little Dub".

State Contests

Cochrane, Gherke, Mulroy, Carey.
Flynn, Bleck, Knapstein.

Our State entries traveled to Clintonville on Thursday afternoon of April 10, to compete with Shawano and Clintonville in the various contests. In the afternoon, the Oratory and Extemporaneous Reading Contests were held; and in the evening the Declamatory and Extemporaneous Speaking Contests. Because of the supreme quality of the Shawano contestants, ours were not able to take many judgments. Nevertheless, we succeeded in securing three places. Clair Mulroy received third place in Oratory, and Florence Flynn, third place in Extemporaneous Reading. Hazel Bleck was awarded second place in Declamatory. Our other entries were Esther Gherke, Oratory; Eileen Carey, Extemporaneous Speaking; and Gertrude Knapstein, Declamatory. Shawano secured almost every place. They won all first places and second in Extemporaneous Speaking and Extemporaneous Reading. Clintonville secured second place in Oratory. Clair Mulroy spoke on the "The 11th Commandment", and Esther Gherke spoke on "A Call to Women". The name of Hazel Bleck's piece was "Pro Pratria", and Gertrude Knapstein's was "Skippy and Barrel-head".

Music

R. F. GORANSON

Mr. R. F. Goranson graduated from the School of Music and Education, University of Minnesota, in 1927. After two years of teaching at New Richmond, Wisconsin, he came to New London last fall.

Mr. Goranson had charge of all of the musical organizations in the school including band, orchestra, glee clubs, junior orchestra, and assembly singing. In addition to this work, Mr. Goranson supervised music in the grades of both the Lincoln and McKinley schools and gave lessons on various musical instruments to those who showed a desire for them.

Through his efforts, we found a constant supply of budding and even "blossomed" musicians serving in the interest of the band, orchestra, saxophone quartette, and glee clubs, ready to fulfill the needs of any program. Two classes may even attribute it to him that they had an orchestra and a German band to represent them in the spirit cup program. We may be considered very fortunate in having a dance orchestra of high school boys prepared to "pooh pooh, pa doo" for us whenever demanded. Our assembly singing programs every Wednesday were jolly, well participated affairs, especially so to the Junior and Senior boys.

As long as we are able to secure capable men to direct our musical organizations, we need not thirst for additional entertainment. We are sorry to hear that Mr. Goranson will not be with us next year, but we wish him the best of luck in his future work.

Glee Club

Krenke, Radke, Stern, Morse, R. F. Goranson, Meildejohn, Johnson, Mathewson.
Abel, Swalwell, Noack, Kroll, Justinger, Platte, Runnells, Dexter.
McLaughlin, Cummings, Smith, Thomas, Demming, Wiedenbeck, Bork, Roepke, Thern.

There are two girl's glee clubs in our school, the Senior being for high school girls. There are twenty five members in this organization. They sang for a Christmas program in the assembly room and also at the Baccaiaureate exercises in May. Though they were not given many opportunities for public appearanccs, the girls practiced consistently throughout the year.

The other girl's glee club in our school is made up of forty Junior High School pupils. They also sang at the Christmas program in the asseinbly in addition to appearance at the Poultry and Rabbit show and in connection with the annual operetta staged by the pupils of the grades. Mr. R. F. Goranson, Director of Music, directed both of these glee clubs.

Band

Bender, Farrell, Sohrweide, Gottgetreu, Parfitt, Pfeifer, Gorges, Jeffers, Kendall, Buelow, Sloan, Schaefer, Schroeder, Bleck, Lathrop, Heinrich, Ziemer, Anderson, R. F. Goranson, Cochran, Raby, Mulhaney, Gherke, Radke, Dcan, Sagar, Roepke, Jossie, Rasmussen, Putnam, Stedje, Block.

To strive to become a member of the high school band is a worthy ambition, for without a doubt the band is one of the most important organizations in school. At least, it is the organization which is called upon more than any other. Under the directorship of R. F. Goranson, the forty-six members of the band responded to every call this year and added pep and enthusiasm to every program, whether it be a debate or poultry show.

Marching down the field in red and white uniforms, playing on the rostrum at Werner's Hall, the band did its part in cheering New London's athletes to victory. At debates and other forensic contests it was the band which put the contestants in a determined mood. Pep meetings and snake dances would have been decided failures were it not for the band. Even pancake suppers and poultry and rabbit shows seemed to need the support of this organization during the past year. With such versatility and with a willingness to contribute to any and every program, is it any wonder that the band should be called one of the most important, if not the most important organization in school?

Orchestra

Sohrweide, Meating, Gottgetreu, Mulroy, Parfitt, Bleck, Heinrich, Ziemer, Bender, Sloan, Reuter, Lathrop, Schroeder, Knuth, Kendall, Demming, Anderson, Prah, Eggert, Calef, De Young, Swalwell, Wendlandt, Hippler, Gherke, Mulhaney, Johnson, Doud, Mr. Goranson.

Cochrane, Ziemer, Bleck, Demming, Polzin, Wiedenbeck, Thern, Foy, Meidam, Sohrweide, Jossie.

Second in importance in the musical organizations of the school is the orchestra. The senior orchestra is composed of forty-six members this year. Although this group has not made as many appearances as the band, it has appeared in public enough to have demonstrated its talent and ability. The orchestra played for the opening of three numbers of the lyceum course which was sponsored by the Seniors. It also played for some of the local debates and helped furnish music for the local poultry and rabbit show.

Training in orchestral music is given to the thirty-six numbers of the junior orchestra. Beginners, who are not yet ready to enter the regular high school orchestra, make up this organization.

In connection with the high school orchestra is another organization which deserves special mention; that group is the dance orchestra. After the home basket ball games, dances were held. The music for these dances was furnished by a seven piece orchestra composed of Clayton Kellogg, Roger Sloan, Watson Reuter, Harold Bleck, Wesley Calef, Harry Heinrich and R. F. Goranson.

Music Program

On Friday evening, April 11, at the Grand Theater, the annual concert of the Band and Orchestra was presented. The programmed numbers were many and varied, the band and the orchestra each contributing half the program. In addition a saxophone quartet was featured.

Ranging from the classical strains of "The Swan" by Saint Saens, and "Liebesfreud" by Kreisler, to the blue harmonies of the "St. Louis Blues", the program covered in a large measure the many forms of orchestral literature. The pleasing program was under the direction of R. F. Goranson.

Bank

A. A. VORBA

Each year many new systems are established in our Public Schools. The Thrift Savings System was the one adopted in the fall of the year 1925. Since that time students have increased their interest of banking so greatly that at the present time all classes are running close and high averages. In the first year sixty-seven per cent of the students had savings accounts. In the term of 1926-1927, this average was raised to eighty-eight per cent. In the term of 1927-1928, a great increase was shown which was raised to ninety-four per cent.

After adopting this plan, the class of '27 succeeded in holding the one hundred per cent record for one term. Since it is customary that each graduating class purchase some memorial to place in the school, the class of '27 purchased a large thrift banner. This banner was to be awarded to the class, which at the close of the school year had achieved the most perfect thrift record for that year. The banner was to be awarded seven years and at the end of this time, would be placed in memory of its donator.

The following school term began the race and high competition was held through the entire year. The class of '29 succeeded in capturing the banner for the first time. Banking is carried on each Tuesday at twenty minutes of twelve. The classes which are divided meet in given roll rooms to do their banking. Up to the present date, $4370.48 has been banked since the beginning of this school year. Mr. A. A. Vorba has charge of the school bank this year.

Monday Morning News

Zimmer, Eggert, Brown, Pirner, Wiedenbeck, Marks, De Young, Krause, Radke, Bleck, Matteson, LeBeau, Loughrin, Ziebell, Dolhoff, Kiekhoefer, De Young, Wilson.

Thompson, Haney, Sackett, Wiedenbeck, Bleck, Baches, Flynn, Dornbach.

The "Monday Morning News" was edited in December 1924 for the first time. The publishing was undertaken that year by the class of 1926. The same class which had put the work well under way during the last semester took up the same work the following year and succeeded in developing a more standard paper. A definite assigned staff published this paper for one semester and other members of the class were given their positions. The fourth year, a class of Journalism was formed which took over the entire situation. Since that time, assigned positions are given to each Journalism student for a definite period, and in this way our school paper is issued every Monday morning.

The financing during the first year was accomplished by a subscription fee of $1.00, but this was abandoned the second year. It was then decided that the paper could be supported better by means of advertising, and class assessment. During the past year each class donated a sum of money above that which was specified. The Freshman Class held sandwich and cake sales, the Sophomore Class held an "Indoor Carnival", the Junior Class raised the majority of their money by "hot dog" sales, Eskimo Pie sales, and various programs. The Senior Class raised the entire amount of their donations by sponsoring a group of Lyceum numbers.

The success of this paper is largely due to the efforts of Miss Ione E. Halverson, who has been faculty advisor throughout the paper's five years of existence.

The Classmate

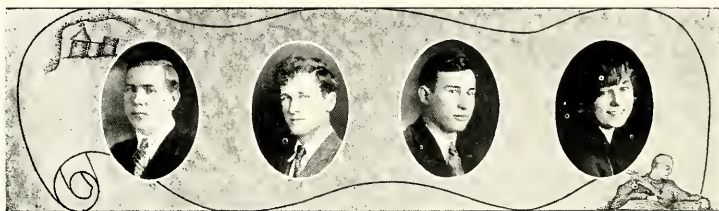

Cochrane, Bleck, Sennett, Mulroy, Bleck, Egan.
Shepard, Heinrich, Gherke, Ziebell, Abrams.

At the close of the school year students are privileged to purchase the year book. This book contains all interesting reviews of the school year. A copy consists of three divisions; the write ups, the photographs and the advertising section. Solicited advertisers and student picture fees and the additional single copy fee finance

The editing was done by a staff, which consisted of seven senior representatives and three juniors. This editing staff was headed by Fred Cochrane and he had as his associate editor, Hazel Bleck. Helen Abrams had charge of the Music Work and did the reporting for the activities of the Band, Orchestra, and Glee Clubs. Catherine Egan gathered all class informations that have been of interest during the school year. Esther Gherke reported all outcomes of the divisions of Public Speaking, such as Oratory, Declamatory, Extemporaneous Reading and Speaking and Debate. Harry Heinrich, the father of all humor has given us all the "funnies" he knew and gathered others found in school life. Clair Mulroy acted as Business Manager and was assisted by Irvin Ziebell. Norman Sennett had charge of the photography division. Caring much for Athletics, Harold Bleck reported such events of interest. Grace Shepard again assumed the painstaking duty of staff artist.

Athletic Association

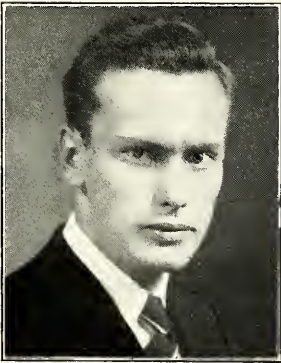

OFFICERS

M. Ladwig	President
W. Wiedenbeck	Vice President
A. Burton	Secretary
F. Flynn	Treasurer

Our athletic association was established by the students of the high school in 1923 with an aim to favor good, clean, high school athletics, with a wide participation. Since that time, the opening of each school year has seen the beginning of an intensive campaign by each of the four classes to put their membership over the top 100%. This year, as well as in many of the past, all classes were successful in their campaign. The association handles the financial side of the various athletic contests put on by the school. The dues for membership are used to defray expenses or put in the association treasury. This unit has become a fixed institution in the school.

We are fortunate to have this association in our high school as it gives to the students the opportunity to make regulations in regard to such details as the awarding of letters in addition to allowing them to express their feelings, be they praises or complaints, in regard to our athletic program. In the past few years, however, the latter standard has become so developed and the regulations have been so well carried out that no complaints or charges have been voiced at the meetings.

L. N. KOLSTE

After graduating from St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota, L. N. Kolste left for Wheaton High School, Wheaton, Illinois, where he was lightweight coach for two years. Mr. Kolste was very successful in his work at Wheaton, turning out two conference championships in football, two in track, and one in basketball.

Mr. Kolste took charge of the coaching of football, basketball, and track in our high school during the past school year. He at once made an impression on the fellows so that they immediately took a liking to him. At the beginning of the year, he told the players that he believed that the coach and the players should "meet each other half way". The boys kept this thought in mind, and at no time was there any hard feeling between the coach and players.

Our boys experienced a successful season in football and basketball, and as this annual goes to press we can visit the athletic field any evening and witness the track squad running, jumping, and throwing with enough pep to beat old Nick himself.

Foot Ball Season

The season started out rather disastrously, for the Red and White eleven lost their first game of the season to West DePere, on October 2. New London was ahead at the half with a score of 7 to 6. Both teams played hard but DePere excelled our boys in passing and succeeded in piling up a final score of 24 to 7. The last touchdown was made just a few minutes before the game ended. In the game with Shawano on October 4, New London started out with a bang and soon found weakness in the Indians' line. Most of the gains made by New London were through the center and around the ends. The teams were evenly matched in weight. Shawano, like West DePere, excelled in a passing game but New London showed superior ability in hitting the line for good gains. This consistent line plunging resulted in a victory for the Red and White, 13 to 0. The punting on both sides was about even.

The next week we played Menasha. Kolste's warriors began with an aerial attack that nearly took the Menasha boys off their feet. Within a short time the New London eleven had the ball on Menasha's half yard line, but lost the ball on downs. New London led during the first half, but Menasha's 170 pound fullback plowed through the Red and White lines for long gains and soon shoved over a touchdown. Menasha's last touchdown was made two minutes before the game ended, and the result was a 12 to 6 defeat for our boys. Receiving the ball on the kickoff, in the Clintonville game which was played October 19, the New London aggregation started a steady march down the field. The half ended 20 to 0 in New London's favor. In the second half Clintonville opened up by passing their way down the field, and soon went over for the Orange and Black's lone touchdown. Near the end of the fourth quarter Coach Kolste sent in his second team. A score of 32 to 7 was piled up against Clintonville.

On October 26 The Red and White team were considerably outweighed in their battle with the strong Neenah eleven. By desperate fighting they managed to split honors with their formidable opponents, however, and the final score was 7 to 7. New London's touchdown was made when Burton passed to Sackett. Sackett shook off three men and carried the ball 30 yards for a touchdown. Neenah's score was made by a series of consistent line plays. Losing the ball many times because of fumbles, the New London squad lost its last game before the onslaught of the strong East De Pere eleven. The Red and White's only touchdown was made by a 40 yard pass, Dernbach to Brown. Brown ran 20 yards for the touchdown. The final score was 13 to 6 in favor of De Pere.

Basket Ball Season

After the selection of the varsity team, from the quintets of the class tournament, Coach Kolste whipped his boys into shape for the first game of the season. It was an easy victory of 21 to 10 over the Waupaca five. The next four games, preliminary to the conference schedule were also won by the Red and White. Of these four teams, Marion put up the best fight. The quality of the Marion five can be judged by the fact that they won the North Central Wisconsin Conference championship this year.

With the opening of the Conference season, New London was scheduled to meet Menasha on January 11. The Red and White took an 8 to 3 lead at the half but because of inability to make free throws lost the game 10 to 11. The next week Kolste's men met the Shawano quintet. The game started very poorly. In the second half, however, both teams came back and played a better brand of Basketball. The score of this game was 17 to 13 in favor of New London. The Red and White second squad lost its game.

On January 24 the local five put up one of the prettiest five men defense and offense games seen on the floor for a long time. In this game with Clintonville, the Orange and Black were held to two baskets in the first half and three in the second. The score at the end of the game was 26 to 19. The game was rather marred by fouls. Our second team also won their game. The next week the New London five met its second Conference defeat in a hard fought game with West DePere. In a clean cut game DePere took the honors 33 to 26. The second team was more fortunate and won its game 18 to 7.

On February 7 the Red and White held the upper edge on the championship Neenah five until twenty seconds before the game ended. At this time a foul was called against New London and Neenah's elongated center sank two free throws to win the game. The Neenah quintet went to the State Tournament later in the season and won the State Championship. In the second team game our boys took the laurels 18 to 14. The following week the "Golden Chariot" carried the New London cagers to DePere to win a 14 to 12 victory. The game was won by an early lead which was gained in the first half.

In the last three games of the season, New London again played the role of victor. Both Oconto Falls and Hortonville were easily downed by the Kolste men. In the last regular game of the season with Clintonville, the Red and White warriors had to fight for their honors. The score saw-sawed several times during the game, but shortly before the third quarter the local five took the lead and retained it, winning the game 20 to 19.

When the teams were selected for the Neenah District Tournament, New London was one of the four teams selected that did not need to play an elimination game. The four were: Neenah, Menasha, West DePere, and New London. The other teams who entered by winning elimination games were: Rosendale, Ripon, Kimberly, and Sturgeon Bay. New London's first Tournament game was with Ripon. This was a surprise because we had been planning to meet the strong Neenah five the first night. The Red and White five didn't show their usual form in this game, however they did manage to beat Ripon 38 to 23. In the second game of the Tournament the Kolste men were lined up against the Neenah quintet. Showing a wonderful fighting spirit in the first quarter, the local boys took a 5 to 1 lead. At the half Neenah lead 9 to 8. During the second half the Neenah five's defense tightened up and New London was able to make only two more points through the free throw route. The game ended 16 to 10 in Neenah's favor.

The third game of the Tournament with West DePere was forfeited because the opponents failed to appear on time. The final game of the Tournament was played with Rosendale. New London was nosed out of third place by a score of 25 to 21. The Red and White boys were unable to score, Brown was the only man who was "on" and succeeded in making 17 points.

Junior Class Team

Raby, Pfeifer, Westphal, Ladwig, Learmann.
Ziemer, Brown, Dayton, Raby.

It is the custom of the New London High School to have an inter-class basketball tournament each year, to give all the students an opportunity to show their ability to play, and to select players for the high school squad. The following boys were chosen by Coach Kolste to constitute the squad: C. Pfeifer, M. Westphal, V. Burton, L. Dernback, M. Ladwig, Fred Raby, Floyd Raby, M. Brown, H. Bleck, W. Reuter, L. Dent, O. Froehlich, D. Farrell, A. Burton, C. Sackett, W. Dayton, C. Cronic, H. Brown, and B. Bessett.

The Junior Class won the tournament, and the trophy donated by a number of business men of this city, was presented to them. The Seniors received second place, Sophomores third, and Freshmen last.

Besides the championship trophy, which was a large silver basketball, a trophy for the best spirit and sportsmanship, and a small gold basketball for the player who was the most help to his team, were presented. The sportsmanship trophy went to the Junior Class, and the gold basketball to Monroe Brown.

Brown, Brown, Gorges, Raby, Palmer, Raby.

With the early advent of spring there comes again the desire of many students to take part in various field and track events. Every evening when the weather was at all favorable, the ardent devotees of track could again be seen treading their path around the goal posts on the football field. Captain Sennett was there, ready to set the pace and keep up a lively interest.

The inter-class meet, the first of the season, was staged on April 26. After this meet Coach Kolste picked his squad. The team met in dual meets with Seymour, Waupaca, and Shawano. The conference track meet was held at Shawano on May 17.

The veterans who were point winners in last years conference meet were: Sennett, in the 440 yard dash; Brown, in the pole vault. New London promises to have a successful season next year losing only Sennett who will graduate.

Those who came out at the beginning of the season trying to make the squad, and the events which they tried out for are as follows:

HELLO, FOLKS DOWN THERE!

And then spake Merlin, wisest of the wise,

"Come, ye knights of Arthur,
And be seated at the round table
Whilst we gaze and listen,
At the marvels of the talking crystal ball
Which forecasts to us the future."

"Seems like we're kids again to dust off the old 1930 Classmate and see how funny we looked then. Doesn't seem twenty years since we left the old dump, does it?"

Secretary Sloan of Skytown is speaking to Mayor C. Morgan Mulroy and Treasurer Ade Burton.

"Here's Helen Abram's picture; where is she now, Clair?"

"Head nurse at the Zeppelin hospital; Meda Clark, Bertha Dalley, and Ethel Le-Beau are her assistants. I flew over there the other day to see co-pilots Arndt and Dayton who were injured coming back from Mars in their rocket-machine. The machine was burned beyond repair according to Ted Thomas, their grease-monkey. I saw two mice in the cabin yesterday, Ade."

"Give them some of Dent and Dolhoff's 'Rat Gas'; we can't take a chance on Skytown springing any leaks. Pete Laux is getting so dog-gone lazy with his patching jobs that I think I'll put him in the engine room fixing sky-hooks under Leonard Eggert and put Cronce in his place."

"Take a tip from me, Ade, and don't let him hand you any sob-stuff like Bleck did yesterday. Froelich's as good a cook as he is any day and twice on Sunday. Hollering just because his left hand man, Parfitt peeled too much off the potatoes. Barlow is another who needs watching. He wrecked another plane last night trying to park on the platform outside his bedroom window instead of landing on the roof."

"They're getting worse every day, only yesterday I had to threaten chamber-maid Millard that I would make her live on the earth again if she didn't quit teasing Bell Hop Bellile by putting cracker crumbs in his bed."

"I told Shaw where to get off at when Officer Sackett hailed him before Judge Gherke for stunting above the Hospital. I said I'd dump both Margaret and him off into the Lebanon Swamp if he didn't stop his reckless driving."

(Chorus—Froelich, Bleck, and Parfitt) "Soup's ON!"

Through the open doorway we hear the haunting strains of Pope Bender's Dinner Orchestra as Dent sings, "Up in the air over you."

"Dern clever, these 'Irish'."

—answered Arthur, bravest of the brave,

"Away with such froppery and on with the jousts!
I cannot list to tasks of the future
Until I have killed the dragons and black knights of today!"

Harry Heinrich Makes Great Discovery

Harry Heinrich of this city has invented, with the assistance of Mr. A. Vorba of the local school laboratory, a new method of heating homes. He believes that because of its cleanliness, noiselessness, simplicity, and efficiency, this new idea will revolutionize the industry.

The plan is to build a large funnel above the seats of all classrooms, placing special emphasis on public speaking rooms. Hot air from recitations is harnessed and carried by means of pipes to a large tank. Warm is then poured into pails from the tanks and sold at ten cents a pailful. The buyer merely pours the warm from the pail into the room. Some people who dislike cold beds bring a pail with them every night and pour it into the bed just before climbing in.

The Classmate

I Will

Since we're leaving all of you poor unbenighted underclassmen in a few days, we have decided to leave you something to remember us by. Please excuse those who didn't give, because they gave all they had to the starving populace of Borneo.

Merton Parfitt: "Unto you, "Goofy" Fonstad, I bequeath my broken clarinet reeds."

Kenneth Meating, Claude Sackett, Carlton Gottgetreu: "We give our sideburns cheerfully unto Orville Jossie, Teddy Dorsey, and Monroe Brown."

Mary Waushesock: "I gratefully give my 'winning weighs' to Alice Naparalla.

"Skinny" Sennet: "It is indeed with great sorrow that I must leave my 'little brown jug' behind. Take it, Mike, and may the team never sorrow for water."

"Pope" Bender: "Don Dawson may have my patent haircut. It will so improve your appearance, Don."

Adela Sackett and Josephine Brown: "We have two engraved dog collars for Alice and Hazel. Lenny and Chuck will have to buy the chains."

Harold Marks: "My T-bone to the Home-Ecs." (A smile from Miss Hoffman.)

Bertha Dalley: "My Appleton meal-ticket to Lydia Dorsey." (The will may be contested because of "fowl" language.)

Kenneth Kendall: "My scholarship may be had by Gordon Rohloff if he doesn't win one of his own."

Harry Heinrich: "Mr. Vorba may have my correct answers to the physics problems."

All: "To the benefit of the chemistry and manual arts classes we permit them to alienate the affections of forgotten gum."

"And do be careful children. We will no longer watch over you."

"Believe It Or Not"

Nig Barlow is the youngest graduate in the class of '30.

Miss Hoffman's hair is not red.—It's bronze.

Merton Parfitt lost fifteen pounds in two weeks.

A Freshman was seen washing his neck.

Mr. Brockhaus wears a derby to church. ("That's nothing," commented Bub Dayton, "so does my dad.")

New London is to have a new school.

All of the teachers donated to the hospital fund.

Harry Heinrich walked out of the assembly room at 2:07 p. m. on March 28 wearing the sign, "dirt cheap".

A high-pressure salesman tried to sell the Woolworth Building to New Londonites. Here are some answers he received:

T-bone: "I left my purse home."

H. Clegg: "Wrap it up."

Dingbat: "Got change for a ten?"

Pope: "Can't kid me; I bought it last week."

Alice W.: "Bring it over to Northport and we'll take it."

Mr. Brockhaus: "How much will you allow me on a first class car?"

Barlow: "I sunk my roll in the shoe-factory."

The Seniors want "Ach Du Lieber" for their class song, according to Herr Roger and his "Thirsty Seven".

The Freshmen, whose colors are black and white, chose the "Bars and Stripes forever".

The Juniors chose "The Blunder".

—And the Sophomores didn't choose any at all.

The annual city baby show closed today "Owley" and "Freddie" Raby sharing first money jointly and equally. The Blue Ribbon was made by Miss Hoffman of the high school, thus being of additional esteem.

Second place is held, also jointly, by Irvin Zeibel's dog and himself. Elda Tesch walked away with third place and would have received a better place were it not for the fact that she cried during the entire program. The little tots: Lennie Eggert, Freddie Cochran, Tubby Sagar, were given honorable mention and Kennie Steingraber was barred not because he was too old, but because of his precociousness.

POST PHOTOGRAVURE SECTION

On the opposite page you will find pictures. Some of them concern articles in this paper. Watch them!

IRISHMAN BEATEN!!

Leo Barlow was overheard at the news depot making the boast that he and his brother and six other fellows licked an Irishman once. Upon questioning, he admitted that the Irishman was sick and also had a broken arm. Even at this, the story is still considered to be quite spectacular.

NEW LONDON-NORTH-PORT BOUNDARY DISPUTE SETTLED

The boundary dispute with Northport was definitely settled to-day when Clair Mulroy, "local settler", adopted the slogan of "2-98 or fight". Wesley Calef backed up the slogan saying "I believe in any good slogan". Carver and Thompson of Northport realized the uselessness of arguing with debators and agreed, but they held firmly to the other line of 22-50.

D. Bessette—"A one-seater."

IRISHMAN HURT IN LEBANON TRAIN WRECK!

As Elidde Yorlum, box 1, route 3, of the New London suburb, Lebanon, was returning with his wife Neelie Yorlum, from a shopping tour in New London, their "two-seater" bicycle knocked the Lebanon Limited off the track. Elidde was severely scratched though his good wife escaped uninjured. The train was badly damaged.

Twenty-four Swedes who under the leadership of Pete Westphal were leaving for Minnesota after becoming tired of the United States were killed in the wreck. They were in the train. Their bodies were used to fill in the swamp hole in H. Clegg's back yard.

LOCAL COACH SUED

Mike Justinger, coach of the local high school basketball team which won the 1938 championship this year, is being sued for alienation of affection by Claude Sackett, heavyweight boxer and husband of a former Zeigfield Follies girl. Sackett claims that while he was boxing Primo Carnera Tuesday evening, Mike Justinger was escorting his girl to a snow. Some one warned Sackett and he became so angry that he knocked the Italian giant for a row.

After High School Comes The Parting Of The Ways

Classmates who have sailed along together for the past four years, begin to follow different paths. Some will advance toward success by leaps and bounds. Others will merely "mark time" in the same old rut.

WILL YOU BE AMONG THE SUCCESSFUL ?

Of course, you want to be one of those who will be holding a good position with a bright outlook for the future in five years.

If you are interested in Business, advise with us. Our Employment Department will be glad to cooperate with you in finding your first opening.

May we send you one of our books "Beyond Tomorrow." It is FREE.

The Time Honored Gift Every Graduate Hopes For . . .

Time has wisely approved the giving of a watch at graduation. Nothing so well sums up the solid attainment and golden promise of the day.

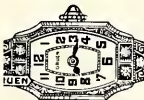

Benrus
Wrist
Watches
$15 to $50

In buying either jewelry or fine watches you must take on faith what your eye cannot see. That's why it pays you to consult a jeweler who has won, through long years of doing business, reputation for absolute trust-worthiness.

Strap
Watches
$9.50 to $50

We believe it to be generally recognized that we are just that kind of jewelers. That is why the Gruen and Benrus Watchmakers have selected us as one of the limited number of jewelers throughout the country who may sell their time pieces.

Gruen

Surprise Her With a Modern Faucet

Is she tired of the same old kitchen? Let us brighten it up with this bit of modern beauty and convenience—a swinging spout sink faucet. And why not surprise her? We can install a new faucet in a very short time—while she is away.

She will go on appreciating it because it will make her work easier. The swinging spout delivers water to any part of the sink, and so saves lifting of pans. Also it "tempers" water to the desired temperature and so prevents scalding of hands. We have several models at different prices. We'll gladly show them to you.

Plywood

Creates Interiors of Unusual Character

Cold, bare walls become warm, friendly interiors under the magic of plywood panels. Everywhere you go, you see rooms of unusual character and beauty paneled with native or foreign woods.

The finest of new buildings, both public and private, make liberal use of plywood panels. Homes, large or small, are made doubly inviting thru the medium of plywood panels.

Plywood makes possible the faithful reproduction of period influence in the construction of individual rooms. It lends itself to the expression of beauty, daintiness, strength, ruggedness, grandeur, massiveness. Plywood is the most flexible of all building materials.

Congratulations-

to the members of the graduating class upon the successful completion of four years of study. According to carefully compiled statistics, each day you have spent in high school has earned you $9.00. This is due to the fact that the per diem earnings of a high school graduate, over a period of years, are that much greater than those of a person with only a grade school education. So, from a financial standpoint alone, your high school course has paid you handsome dividends.

In looking to the future, we hope you will carefully consider the opportunities open to you in this, your home town. And—in this connection—we want to offer you the friendship and cooperation of this bank in any way it may prove helpful. Why not drop in and talk over your problems with us? We shall be glad to see you at any time.

Office Of Superintendent

June 17, 1929

Mr. George W. Fuerst,
New London, Wisconsin.

Dear Mr. Fuerst:

I am writing you a letter this morning which I should have written a long time ago and one that I did want to write the day following our Junior Prom. I trust that the lapse of time will have no effect upon my thought.

I wanted to write you, telling you that I thought that you and your orchestra did a very fine piece of work for us at our annual Junior Prom. I was perfectly satisfied myself, which is saying a great deal. I have not always been as satisfied in respect to music for our Junior Prom. You satisfied us very, very well. We were highly pleased with your work.

When I say that we were pleased I have in mind others, other than myself. I heard many very favorable comments. You are to be congratulated upon the fine piece of work you did for us and I hope that your orchestra may continue and grow. I might add that this is the first time in a long time that I have taken occasion to write a comment of this sort.

Yours very truly,

R. J. McMAHON.

Superintendent.
